

MISS ANNE M. TURNER TO WED P. B. WALTON

Ceremony Takes Place To-Day at Home of Mrs. A. Langstaff Johnston, on Franklin Street.

CARD PARTY IN LAWRENCEVILLE

Announcement Is Made of Engagement of Miss M. Thornton Turnbull, Daughter of Congressman, to William L. Vance.

Mrs. Warner Moore, of West Franklin Street, left town yesterday to attend the convention of the Daughters of the American Revolution, now in session in Staunton. A number of prominent women from many parts of the State are in Staunton for this convention and a great many handsome entertainments have been planned in honor of these visitors.

Mrs. Moore returned to Richmond on Monday having been a guest of her sister, Mrs. William Howard Wright, of Cockeysville, Md., for several weeks.

A quiet wedding of interest to society here is that of Miss Anne Macdonald, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Macdonald, of the American Revolution, to Dr. Percy Brantley Walton, of this city, which will be celebrated to-day. The ceremony will take place in Richmond at the home of the bride's aunt, Mrs. A. Langstaff Johnston, 265 West Franklin Street.

Lawrenceville Card Party.

Yesterday afternoon from 2:30 to 6:30 the Auction Bridge Club of Lawrenceville was delightfully entertained at the residence of Mrs. E. R. Turnbull, Jr., Mrs. W. Henry Moore, and Mrs. Walter Turnbull being hostesses on the occasion. Decorations of ferns, palms, potted plants and candles were used everywhere, the color scheme being pink and green. The game, which was played at six tables, with very attractive prizes, was followed by refreshments. The surprise of the afternoon, however, came when, as the guests were about to leave, a wedding march resounded, and the dining-room doors opening disclosed a long table gleaming with lights and touches of pink and green. Under a central white wedding bell a miniature bride and groom were surrounded on all sides with hosts whereon fair Cupids held staffs with various heart-shaped confections. The bride, who was seated at the head of the table, wore a gown of the favoring pink slipper fitted with rose-filled hose—the little hand-painted cards announcing the engagement of Miss Mary Thornton Turnbull to William L. Vance.

Mrs. J. Murray Priest and Miss Sue Gray have been recent guests of Miss Virginia Jordan in Suffolk.

Miss Annette Warren, who has been visiting her brother, Roger Warren, in Richmond for a few days, has returned to Norfolk.

John C. Hobson, of Baltimore, is spending a few days this week with friends in Richmond.

Miss Josephine Holzer, of Durham, N. C., is the guest of Mrs. Joseph A. Anshin here.

Frank Michaux, of Powhatan County, is attending the State Fair in Richmond this week.

Mrs. Henry M. Urquhart, of Suffolk is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winston, in Richmond.

Ray G. Pratt is in Fredericksburg, where he is attending the convention of the League of Virginia Municipalities.

Miss Ada V. Allison, of Alexandria, is a guest of Mrs. Hallie Hucker at her home in this city.

W. A. Cline, of Shacklett is spending a week with friends in this city.

Mrs. Alexander Slavmaker, of Alexandria, is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Larnard, in Richmond.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Stiff have returned to Fredericksburg, after spending a short time in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Garnett, of this city, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William L. Vance in Harrisburg.

Johnston—Powell. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WAKE FOREST, N. C., October 12.—The wedding of Miss Patricia Georgia Powell, daughter of William C. Powell, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Donald Porter Johnston, of Santa Fe, N. M., was solemnized at 2 o'clock this evening at a "dilly-dilly" Miss Powell's summer home at Wake Forest, N. C. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lewis M. Roper, D. D., of Petersburg, Va. Mrs. Benjamin Fleet Board, formerly of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Robert Benjamin Powell, of Silver City, N. M., sisters of the bride, acted as matrons of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Rosa Cleveland Powell, of New York City, and Miss Sarah Elizabeth Seward, of Petersburg, Va. As the wedding girls were six small nieces and cousins of the bride.

Craighead—Johnson. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA, VA., October 12.—Miss Caroline Johnson, daughter of Mrs. J. P. Johnson, of this city, and Frank C. Craighead, of Harrisburg, Va., were married this afternoon at the home of the bride by Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Church. Only the immediate relatives attended. The bride and groom, following a wedding trip, will reside at Falls Church, Fairfax County. The bridegroom is an attaché of the Bureau of Entomology, in Washington.

Marriage Announced. Mr. and Mrs. A. Goldman announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Katie Hartfield, to Max Friedenberg, of Petersburg. The wedding was celebrated on October 10.

Club Entertained. An interesting meeting of the Clover Leaf Club was held in the home of Misses Elsie and Gladys Binn, 402 North Thirtieth Street, Friday evening. Twelve members of the club were present and after the business meeting was adjourned, games were played and refreshments served.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN. Mrs. Charles P. Stokes has returned to her apartment at the Chesterfield, after a visit to her sister in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Vaughan, Jr., have opened their apartment at Monroe Terrace, after spending several weeks at "Pascadena," near Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skelton Williams motored to Baltimore this week from Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Weldon have returned to the city, after spending some time in the mountains of Tennessee and visiting relatives in South Carolina.

Miss Caroline Vandiver, of Ashland, will spend the winter months in Richmond with Miss Carrie Coleman.

Mrs. Frederic S. Campbell is spending some time with friends in New York City.

J. Stewart Harney, of New York and Newport, has been the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. Calvin Stuart in this city for a brief stay.

Mrs. John Garland Pollard, who is spending the fall season in Hampton, is in Richmond this week.

Mrs. W. L. Boyd has returned to her home in this city.

In Tuning Your Piano

It is important to have the work done by

Expert Tuners

We have three expert tuners and repairers, and our work is guaranteed.

LEE FERGUSON PIANO CO.

119 East Broad Street. Mad. 122. Mad. 622.

SKETCHES FROM LIFE -- By Temple

"Street Repairs."

home in Richmond, after spending two weeks with relatives in Caroline County.

Mrs. J. Murray Priest and Miss Sue Gray have been recent guests of Miss Virginia Jordan in Suffolk.

Miss Annette Warren, who has been visiting her brother, Roger Warren, in Richmond for a few days, has returned to Norfolk.

John C. Hobson, of Baltimore, is spending a few days this week with friends in Richmond.

Miss Josephine Holzer, of Durham, N. C., is the guest of Mrs. Joseph A. Anshin here.

Frank Michaux, of Powhatan County, is attending the State Fair in Richmond this week.

Mrs. Henry M. Urquhart, of Suffolk is the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Winston, in Richmond.

Ray G. Pratt is in Fredericksburg, where he is attending the convention of the League of Virginia Municipalities.

Miss Ada V. Allison, of Alexandria, is a guest of Mrs. Hallie Hucker at her home in this city.

W. A. Cline, of Shacklett is spending a week with friends in this city.

Mrs. Alexander Slavmaker, of Alexandria, is the guest of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Larnard, in Richmond.

Dr. and Mrs. J. P. Stiff have returned to Fredericksburg, after spending a short time in Richmond.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Garnett, of this city, have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. William L. Vance in Harrisburg.

Johnston—Powell. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] WAKE FOREST, N. C., October 12.—The wedding of Miss Patricia Georgia Powell, daughter of William C. Powell, of Jacksonville, Fla., and Donald Porter Johnston, of Santa Fe, N. M., was solemnized at 2 o'clock this evening at a "dilly-dilly" Miss Powell's summer home at Wake Forest, N. C. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Lewis M. Roper, D. D., of Petersburg, Va. Mrs. Benjamin Fleet Board, formerly of Washington, D. C., and Mrs. Robert Benjamin Powell, of Silver City, N. M., sisters of the bride, acted as matrons of honor. The bridesmaids were Miss Rosa Cleveland Powell, of New York City, and Miss Sarah Elizabeth Seward, of Petersburg, Va. As the wedding girls were six small nieces and cousins of the bride.

Craighead—Johnson. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA, VA., October 12.—Miss Caroline Johnson, daughter of Mrs. J. P. Johnson, of this city, and Frank C. Craighead, of Harrisburg, Va., were married this afternoon at the home of the bride by Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Church. Only the immediate relatives attended. The bride and groom, following a wedding trip, will reside at Falls Church, Fairfax County. The bridegroom is an attaché of the Bureau of Entomology, in Washington.

Marriage Announced. Mr. and Mrs. A. Goldman announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Katie Hartfield, to Max Friedenberg, of Petersburg. The wedding was celebrated on October 10.

Club Entertained. An interesting meeting of the Clover Leaf Club was held in the home of Misses Elsie and Gladys Binn, 402 North Thirtieth Street, Friday evening. Twelve members of the club were present and after the business meeting was adjourned, games were played and refreshments served.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN. Mrs. Charles P. Stokes has returned to her apartment at the Chesterfield, after a visit to her sister in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Vaughan, Jr., have opened their apartment at Monroe Terrace, after spending several weeks at "Pascadena," near Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skelton Williams motored to Baltimore this week from Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Weldon have returned to the city, after spending some time in the mountains of Tennessee and visiting relatives in South Carolina.

Miss Caroline Vandiver, of Ashland, will spend the winter months in Richmond with Miss Carrie Coleman.

Mrs. Frederic S. Campbell is spending some time with friends in New York City.

J. Stewart Harney, of New York and Newport, has been the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. Calvin Stuart in this city for a brief stay.

Mrs. John Garland Pollard, who is spending the fall season in Hampton, is in Richmond this week.

Mrs. W. L. Boyd has returned to her home in this city.

Expert Tuners

We have three expert tuners and repairers, and our work is guaranteed.

LEE FERGUSON PIANO CO.

119 East Broad Street. Mad. 122. Mad. 622.

Lee Ferguson Piano Co.

119 East Broad Street. Mad. 122. Mad. 622.

SERBIAN RESISTANCE IS COSTLY TO TEUTONS

Every Inch of Ground Bitterly Contested as Men Fall Back Before Invaders.

HEROES YIELD STEP BY STEP

Two Days' Fighting in Streets of Belgrade Is of Most Sanguinary Character—Many Women and Children Among Dead.

[Special Cable to The Times-Dispatch.] NISH, October 12.—The Serbian resistance at Belgrade cost the Austro-Germans dearly. Every inch of ground was hotly disputed by the hand of Serbian heroes who defended the King's Palace and the citadel, and continued fighting desperately in the streets as they were driven back by the overwhelming masses of the invaders. Even when Belgrade had been given up, owing to the great superiority of the Austro-German artillery, fighting was still going on stubbornly in the streets of the southern suburbs. The Serbians had to be driven back step by step.

The two days' fighting in the streets of the capital was of a most sanguinary character. The inhabitants, taken by surprise, hurriedly fled, but as the roads leading out of the city were kept under a constant artillery fire, many of them, including women and children, perished.

WHOLE DISTRICTS SCENES OF INDESCRIBABLE CONFUSION

Whole districts of Belgrade are scenes of indescribable confusion. Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

The German troops which crossed the Danube at Ram were beaten completely. The Serbian commander reports: "The ground where the Germans landed was so covered with dead bodies that we could not advance without marching over them."

Preceding the occupation of Belgrade, great forces were engaged in the fighting around Obrenovatz, where an entire Austro-German regiment was annihilated by a bayonet charge.

An immense Austro-German force attacked Belgrade from both sides of the Save and Danube, shelling indiscriminately the town and the positions around it, especially all roads whence Serbian reinforcements could come.

When the Austro-Germans approached from both north and south into the Serbian capital, the Serbians offered furious resistance in the northern part of the city. They had collected a considerable force in and near the town, the duty of which it was to defend the capital as long as possible and then develop rear-guard actions.

Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

The German troops which crossed the Danube at Ram were beaten completely. The Serbian commander reports: "The ground where the Germans landed was so covered with dead bodies that we could not advance without marching over them."

Preceding the occupation of Belgrade, great forces were engaged in the fighting around Obrenovatz, where an entire Austro-German regiment was annihilated by a bayonet charge.

An immense Austro-German force attacked Belgrade from both sides of the Save and Danube, shelling indiscriminately the town and the positions around it, especially all roads whence Serbian reinforcements could come.

When the Austro-Germans approached from both north and south into the Serbian capital, the Serbians offered furious resistance in the northern part of the city. They had collected a considerable force in and near the town, the duty of which it was to defend the capital as long as possible and then develop rear-guard actions.

Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

The German troops which crossed the Danube at Ram were beaten completely. The Serbian commander reports: "The ground where the Germans landed was so covered with dead bodies that we could not advance without marching over them."

Preceding the occupation of Belgrade, great forces were engaged in the fighting around Obrenovatz, where an entire Austro-German regiment was annihilated by a bayonet charge.

An immense Austro-German force attacked Belgrade from both sides of the Save and Danube, shelling indiscriminately the town and the positions around it, especially all roads whence Serbian reinforcements could come.

When the Austro-Germans approached from both north and south into the Serbian capital, the Serbians offered furious resistance in the northern part of the city. They had collected a considerable force in and near the town, the duty of which it was to defend the capital as long as possible and then develop rear-guard actions.

Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

The German troops which crossed the Danube at Ram were beaten completely. The Serbian commander reports: "The ground where the Germans landed was so covered with dead bodies that we could not advance without marching over them."

Preceding the occupation of Belgrade, great forces were engaged in the fighting around Obrenovatz, where an entire Austro-German regiment was annihilated by a bayonet charge.

An immense Austro-German force attacked Belgrade from both sides of the Save and Danube, shelling indiscriminately the town and the positions around it, especially all roads whence Serbian reinforcements could come.

When the Austro-Germans approached from both north and south into the Serbian capital, the Serbians offered furious resistance in the northern part of the city. They had collected a considerable force in and near the town, the duty of which it was to defend the capital as long as possible and then develop rear-guard actions.

Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

The German troops which crossed the Danube at Ram were beaten completely. The Serbian commander reports: "The ground where the Germans landed was so covered with dead bodies that we could not advance without marching over them."

Preceding the occupation of Belgrade, great forces were engaged in the fighting around Obrenovatz, where an entire Austro-German regiment was annihilated by a bayonet charge.

An immense Austro-German force attacked Belgrade from both sides of the Save and Danube, shelling indiscriminately the town and the positions around it, especially all roads whence Serbian reinforcements could come.

When the Austro-Germans approached from both north and south into the Serbian capital, the Serbians offered furious resistance in the northern part of the city. They had collected a considerable force in and near the town, the duty of which it was to defend the capital as long as possible and then develop rear-guard actions.

Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

The German troops which crossed the Danube at Ram were beaten completely. The Serbian commander reports: "The ground where the Germans landed was so covered with dead bodies that we could not advance without marching over them."

Preceding the occupation of Belgrade, great forces were engaged in the fighting around Obrenovatz, where an entire Austro-German regiment was annihilated by a bayonet charge.

An immense Austro-German force attacked Belgrade from both sides of the Save and Danube, shelling indiscriminately the town and the positions around it, especially all roads whence Serbian reinforcements could come.

When the Austro-Germans approached from both north and south into the Serbian capital, the Serbians offered furious resistance in the northern part of the city. They had collected a considerable force in and near the town, the duty of which it was to defend the capital as long as possible and then develop rear-guard actions.

Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

War Cross Novelty in Unique Tailored Suit

Unique in its "war cross" decoration is a tailored suit of novelty cloth with fur collar and cuffs.

One of the innovations of the season is a combination "war cross" band placed on the left sleeve after the manner of the band worn by the Red Cross nurses. In the case of the smart suits the band is of fur with the cross insignia of a contrasting felt.

Such a model is illustrated in today's sketch. It shows a modestly wide skirt and a jacket fastened straight up the front to meet the big collar of racoon, which matches the cuffs and the band across the top of the patch pockets. There is a demi-belt which confines the fullness across the hips.

The "war cross" band is, in this instance, of seal skin with the cross marked in white ermine; it is very smart and distinctive, and, as indicated, it need have no relation to the collar and cuffs used on the suit.

Completing the costume is a small mannish chapeau of hatters' plush from which falls one of the new veils.

here to-day at 10 o'clock. City Manager R. Stuart Royer, of Fredericksburg, the president, presiding. There was a large attendance of delegates and members and officials from the various cities and towns of the State, and in addition there were many citizens of Fredericksburg who felt a great interest in the subjects in discussion before the convention. The convention has been widely advertised and great interest has been aroused in it.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of this city, father of the bride.

MUNICIPAL LEAGUE HOLDING CONVENTION

There Is Splendid Attendance From Various Cities and Towns in Virginia.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] FREDERICKSBURG, VA., October 12.—The tenth annual convention of the League of Virginia Municipalities opened its sessions in the courthouse here to-day at 10 o'clock. City Manager R. Stuart Royer, of Fredericksburg, the president, presiding. There was a large attendance of delegates and members and officials from the various cities and towns of the State, and in addition there were many citizens of Fredericksburg who felt a great interest in the subjects in discussion before the convention. The convention has been widely advertised and great interest has been aroused in it.

The invocation was delivered by Rev. John Lee Allison, pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church of this city, father of the bride.

Craighead—Johnson. [Special to The Times-Dispatch.] ALEXANDRIA, VA., October 12.—Miss Caroline Johnson, daughter of Mrs. J. P. Johnson, of this city, and Frank C. Craighead, of Harrisburg, Va., were married this afternoon at the home of the bride by Rev. P. P. Phillips, rector of St. Paul's Church. Only the immediate relatives attended. The bride and groom, following a wedding trip, will reside at Falls Church, Fairfax County. The bridegroom is an attaché of the Bureau of Entomology, in Washington.

Marriage Announced. Mr. and Mrs. A. Goldman announce the marriage of their niece, Miss Katie Hartfield, to Max Friedenberg, of Petersburg. The wedding was celebrated on October 10.

Club Entertained. An interesting meeting of the Clover Leaf Club was held in the home of Misses Elsie and Gladys Binn, 402 North Thirtieth Street, Friday evening. Twelve members of the club were present and after the business meeting was adjourned, games were played and refreshments served.

IN AND OUT OF TOWN. Mrs. Charles P. Stokes has returned to her apartment at the Chesterfield, after a visit to her sister in Washington.

Mr. and Mrs. I. N. Vaughan, Jr., have opened their apartment at Monroe Terrace, after spending several weeks at "Pascadena," near Ashland.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skelton Williams motored to Baltimore this week from Blue Ridge Summit, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Weldon have returned to the city, after spending some time in the mountains of Tennessee and visiting relatives in South Carolina.

Miss Caroline Vandiver, of Ashland, will spend the winter months in Richmond with Miss Carrie Coleman.

Mrs. Frederic S. Campbell is spending some time with friends in New York City.

J. Stewart Harney, of New York and Newport, has been the guest of Rev. and Mrs. J. Calvin Stuart in this city for a brief stay.

Mrs. John Garland Pollard, who is spending the fall season in Hampton, is in Richmond this week.

Mrs. W. L. Boyd has returned to her home in this city.

Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

The German troops which crossed the Danube at Ram were beaten completely. The Serbian commander reports: "The ground where the Germans landed was so covered with dead bodies that we could not advance without marching over them."

Preceding the occupation of Belgrade, great forces were engaged in the fighting around Obrenovatz, where an entire Austro-German regiment was annihilated by a bayonet charge.

An immense Austro-German force attacked Belgrade from both sides of the Save and Danube, shelling indiscriminately the town and the positions around it, especially all roads whence Serbian reinforcements could come.

When the Austro-Germans approached from both north and south into the Serbian capital, the Serbians offered furious resistance in the northern part of the city. They had collected a considerable force in and near the town, the duty of which it was to defend the capital as long as possible and then develop rear-guard actions.

Refugees arriving from Belgrade speak of the hell of fire and the terrible sufferings of the inhabitants.

The German troops which crossed the Danube at Ram were beaten completely. The Serbian commander reports: "The ground where the Germans landed was so covered with dead bodies that we could not advance without marching over them."

Preceding the occupation of Belgrade, great forces were engaged in the fighting around Obrenovatz, where an entire Austro-German regiment was annihilated by a bayonet charge.

Biggs Antique Co.

318 East Franklin

Two Chairs of Exceptional Beauty

(True Reproductions)

Colonial Wing

Rocker and Chair

Made of finest grade solid Mahogany—hair filled.

Original Price, $20 Each.

Sale Price $15 Each

Entire Stock on Sale

No Goods Reserved.

More than $100,000 worth of Biggs' Colonial Mahogany Furniture and kindred wares will be sold. This is your opportunity to furnish your HOME with Biggs' Colonial Mahogany Furniture at FACTORY COST.

John L. Ratcliffe

Florist

209 WEST BROAD ST.

Decorators, Designers

Originators

Now Booking Orders for Fall and Winter Weddings.

Phone Randolph 3771

The Kaufmann Store

LOOK INTO and SLIP INTO One of Our New SWEATERS

of Art Silk

$3.98 $5.00

These sweaters were all of the very highest order, the speakers are all prominent and able men, and are authorities on the subjects treated.

Fredericksburg has been under the city manager form of government for the past four years, has greatly advanced during that period, and the subjects treated were, therefore, of unusual interest to the people of this city. The sessions will continue to-morrow and a splendid program has been provided. The election of officers will take place in the afternoon, an automobile trip over Fredericksburg and adjoining points of interest will be given, and the convention will close with a banquet at night, with Professor E. H. Russell as toastmaster, and at which Judge Alvin T. Embrey, of Fredericksburg, will deliver an address on "Fredericksburg Plan."

These addresses were all of the very highest order, the speakers are all prominent and able men, and are authorities on the subjects treated.

Fredericksburg has been under the city manager form of government for the past four years, has greatly advanced during that period, and the subjects treated were, therefore, of unusual interest to the people of this city. The sessions will continue to-morrow and a splendid program has been provided. The election of officers will take place in the afternoon, an automobile trip over Fredericksburg and adjoining points of interest will be given, and the convention will close with a banquet at night, with Professor E. H. Russell as toastmaster, and at which Judge Alvin T. Embrey, of Fredericksburg, will deliver an address on "Fredericksburg Plan."